G. H. WILSON SEED CO., Downs, Kansas

We maintain these gardens especially for improving and developing new varieties of vegetables and flowers, where we hand-pollinate the blossoms of kindred plants, producing new varieties, then by years of careful selection we develop them until they are perfected. When we have absolutely proven them to be superior to all others, we offer the seeds to our customers.

We have developed a number of new varieties which we are offering you a few for this season and we can especially recommend. The Wilson's Black African, The Wilson's Black and the Golden Oval Muskmelons, and Wilson's White Seeded Tom Watson Watermelons. We have proven these and cannot endorse them too highly to our customers. Through their superior quality and long-keeping they sell readily for high prices when there is no market for other melons. Include these seeds in your orders. We guarantee them to be true to name and of high germination.
